The information below is to be used as a guideline to determine eligibility to receive IFSAC accreditation in the following areas. If you have questions, please refer to the appropriate chapter of the commission's Standard Manual for Fire Protection Personnel on the agency's website at www.tcfp.texas.gov for further clarification.

Qualification Guidelines for IFSAC Seals:

Commission exams that receive a passing grade expire two years from the date of the exam. If an individual is qualifying for an IFSAC seal via a passed exam, the individual MUST apply for the seal while the applicable exam is still current.

Document completion of a medical course that meets the medical requirements of NFPA 1001 that includes the following four subjects:

- Infection Control
- CPR
- Bleeding Control
- Shock Management

Prerequisite seals must be held before an advanced seal can be issued. Both prerequisite seals and advanced seals can be applied for at the same time. Example: Assuming you qualify for both, you may apply for a Hazmat Awareness seal at the same time you apply for a Hazmat Operations seal.
